Revision of the list of Extradition Offences

The list of Extradition Offences under the Indian Extradition Act is put up for reference

Flag 'S'

2) It can be seen from the list placed below that Sections 279 and 338 of the I.P.C. are not Extradition Offences as defined in the Indian Extradition Act. The Chamber of Princes now propose to have these offences included in the list.

3) With regard to the suggestions called for by the Chamber of Princes in the matter of inclusion of any other offences in the list of Extradition Offences, it is respectfully submitted that so far no instances have been brought to the notice of Govt in which difficulties were experienced by the Dist. Magistrates in securing the presence of accused persons in the State Courts for offences not coming under the purview of the Schedule I to the Indian Extradition Act which embodies the list of Extradition Offences.

It would appear that some years back a requisition was made by this State for the extradition of a person accused of having committed the offence of defamation (Sec 500 IPC) which is not an extradition offence and that it was not possible to obtain the surrender of the person to the State. References on this subject are not readily available and if considered necessary may kindly be traced and put up.

5) It is further submitted that the information has called for by the Chamber of Princes can only be furnished to them after consulting the Dist. Magistrates of Districts.

6) It is for orders as to whether an ad-interim reply acknowledging the receipt of the P.W.D may issue.

7) Drafts are also put up.

8) [It is also a point for consideration as to whether the Govt of India may be approached in the matter, it need be directly instead of through the Chamber of Princes] evision of list of extradition offences.

Dear Sir,

It was proposed by certain States that offences under Sections 279 and 338 of the Indian Penal Code relating to motor accidents should be made extraditable between British India and the States in view of the increase in such offences. The proposal was considered by the Standing Committee at its last meeting and it was decided that a circular be issued to the States inviting list of any offences which they may desire similarly to be included in the list of extraditable offences, and that thereafter the suggestions received may be referred in the first instance to the Legal Committee of Ministers for examination. The Report of this Committee with the recommendations of the Ministers Committee will be placed in due course before the Standing Committee of Princes.

2. In this connection, I am desired to invite your suggestions on the subject It is understood that any recommendation made on this question will be subject to agreement with the individual States concerned.

Yours sincerely,

To

The District Magistrate of District.

Sir

I am directed to State that Certain Offence punishable under the provisions of the Indian penal Code which are not included in Schedul I to the Indian Extradition Act 1903 are now on the increase For example offences punishable under Section 279 and 338 of the Indian Penal Code are frequent as a result of the increasing motor traffic between the British Indian provinces and the State and under the existing rules on the subject it is not possible to secure the surrender of criminals alleged to have committed offences under these sections from British India as these offences are not extradition offences under the Indian Extradition Act. It is also possible that there might be some more similar offences which do not come under the purview of Schedule I to the Indian Extradition Act but in respect of which surrender may be required by the State in the interests of justice

WD 0280—GPB—22,500—14-3-38

G. R. S. App. F. G. 3.

GENERAL AND REVENUE SECRETARIAT.

(Continuation sheet draft form.)

I am accordingly to request that Govt may be furnished with your proposals regarding the offences (appropriate sections of the I.P.C being mentioned against each) which in your opinion, have to be included in the list of extradition offs under the Indian Extradition Act.

The matter may kindly be treated as urgent.

Re:- The inclusion of offences in the list of Extradition offences under the Indian Extradition Act.

With reference to your memo No.Jl.PR 795/41 dated the 7th February 1942 on the above subject, I have the honour to state that in addition to the inclusion of offences punishable under section 279 and 338 I.P.C. it is desirable to add offences punishable under section 304 "A" I.P.C also as it is quite likely that a person who sustains injuries by acts falling within the purview of section 279 I.P.C. might succumb to the injuries received.

In this connection, I have to bring to your kind notice that offences under the Coffee Husk Control Act and the M.R.T.T.Act are not made extraditable. The situation of this District affords every facility for offenders under these Acts to take shelter in the South Kanara limits. There have been instances wherein the cases had to be struck off the files owing to the nonapprehension of the accused persons who were suspected to have gone away to South Kanara. I am of opinion that the question of including offences under 5 of the Mysore Coffee Husk Control Act 1940 and Section 11 Mysore Road Traffic and Taxes Act in the list of Extradition offences under the Indian Extradition Act deserves consideration. In case this is done, offences under 11 Mysore Road Traffic and Taxes Act will have to be declared cognizable by the Police as they are not so at present.
